

Script 1

The camera begins its journey at the main gate of JKLU, gliding smoothly toward the LRC. (this will be real footage which I will shoot with my camera) Suddenly, a mystical portal emerges out of nowhere, sucking us into outer space.

We enter a surreal cosmic world lit with disco lights, a sparkling disco ball, and floating space islands, each with unique, vibrant environments—some glowing with neon plants, others spinning with celestial motion.

As the journey continues, we're pulled deeper into the cosmos, and it all ends at a massive black hole portal, swirling with energy.

Optional Add-ons (This is for all script)

- Start with the camera flying past the text:
“JKLU Presents” → “Sabrang” → “Noorwana” → “Color to Cosmos”
- Or include a desert scene in the beginning, like the first draft, where the text rises from the sands before the camera flies into the portal.

Script 2

The journey begins in outer space, surrounded by floating celestial plates and islands, suspended in a zero-gravity dance. A glowing disco ball rotates at the center, casting colorful reflections across the scene.

Each island is unique—

- One features JKLU, glowing with pride
- Another is a full-blown party zone, with characters in festive attire
- Others explore surreal, fantasy-like party landscapes

As we travel across this cosmic carnival, the experience culminates at the same swirling black hole portal, drawing us into the unknown.

Script 3

The scene opens at JKLU's campus, grounded in reality. At the center, a massive rocket prepares for launch—this time enhanced with VFX, embedded seamlessly into real JKLU footage.

With a burst, the rocket launches upward, and we follow it as it pierces the atmosphere. It enters a swirling tunnel portal, hurling us into space.

From there, we experience the same vibrant space from Scripts 1 and 2—filled with floating islands, party-themed planets, glowing disco lights, and surreal cosmic elements—before ending at the black hole portal.

Script 4

We begin at JKLU, but suddenly, the camera starts to fall—glitching and twisting. A powerful glitch transition throws us into the void.

With each glitch, we're transported:

- Into outer space, surreal and infinite
- Then into a tunnel swirling with visuals
  - A party-themed Earth,
  - Parallel universes of JKLU,
  - Whimsical cosmic fusions of dance, color, and celebration

Finally, a last powerful glitch transition throws us into the grand finale space scene, just like before—culminating in the black hole portal.
